The law requires us to:
- maintain records of your health care and to evaluate the performance of our employees, contracted staff, and other personnel who are involved in taking care of you. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may discuss your treatment with a nurse or a resident.
- provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose PHI to review the quality of our treatment and services, and to train our staff.
- to an individual, or the past, present or future payment for the provision of health care you receive. An example of this would be mailers to all patients regarding a walk or run to benefit Froedtert & MCW. If you have questions regarding this Notice, you may contact the Froedtert & MCW Financial Services Department.
- to a state or federal government agency to facilitate their functions. An example of this would be mailers to all patients regarding a walk or run to benefit Froedtert & MCW. If you have questions regarding this Notice, you may contact the Froedtert & MCW Financial Services Department.
- the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), to report adverse events or product defects.
- to public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.
- to health care providers, health plans, or health care clearinghouses. We may provide this information to your employer or to an entity that will maintain such information in the directory. To restrict use of information listed in the directory, please inform the admitting staff or your nurse. They will then provide you with a written notice describing your rights and options. If you want to use or disclose your PHI to communicate your preference, you will be listed in the directory.
- Future Communications: We may use your name, address, email and phone number to contact you to provide you information about new services, products, or programs. We may also contact you about entering into a research study, to make arrangements for services or to provide useful health information.
- a contracted staff, or other personnel who are involved in taking care of you. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may discuss your treatment with a nurse or a resident.
- to public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.
- public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.
- to public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.
- to public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.
- to public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.
- to public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.
- to public, or other persons who are involved in your care. For example, if your family members, students, and trainees in caring for you. We may use and disclose your information for quality assurance activities.